Europe Rewards
Virtual Conference

October 6 & 7th, 2021
9:30am - 1:00pm CET (Online)

Helping HR teams accelerate towards the future of work.

The world around us has changed rapidly since the onset of the global pandemic — and so has the way we work. As we adapt to a constantly evolving environment and accelerate towards the future, we need to adopt a balanced approach to HR that considers both short- and long-term solutions.

Mercer's 2021 Europe Rewards Virtual Conference will bring together HR professionals from across the region to network, share experiences and hear from experts in the industry on innovative approaches to some of today's most pressing HR challenges.

Six reasons to attend:

Industry driven agenda

20+
Speakers from Mercer and leading multinational companies

150+
expected attendees from all over the world

Highly topical keynote session with a world-famous industry expert

Interactive features to let you engage, ask questions and share your perspective in real time

Networking opportunities in an informal, tech-enabled environment

Agenda

We know what's keeping HR leaders up at night!

In a mix of Mercer-led sessions and key client case studies, we are going to share ideas on creating future-ready organizations and sustainable workforces, providing invaluable insights around topics such as attracting and inspiring talent, enhancing the employee experience and well-being, as well as skills for the future of work and much more!

Keynote Speaker: Azeem Azhar

Is your organization ready to reinvent for a new social and economic order?

Azeem is an award-winning entrepreneur, investor and author. He produces Exponential View, the leading newsletter and podcast on the impact of technology on our future economy and society. His first book, Exponential, which explores the transition to the Exponential Age, has just been published to great acclaim.

We look forward to his fascinating session on the future of work and the new social and economic order.

Agenda highlights:

Client case studies from leading organizations sharing how they're advancing in their journey towards the future of work.

Breakout sessions on a range of high-interest topics to facilitate ideas exchange and networking with relevant peer groups.

Fast focus sessions on equality, benefits, HR transformation and performance management trends.
